Graphic Specifications

All advertising mediums have their own set of rules and best practices, and LED advertisement is no exception. The Town of Shediac is asking you to follow the graphic specifications below when you create your ad's graphic layout.

Size: 252 pixels (w) by 144 pixels (h):

Colour: RGB Resolution: 72 dpi

Preferred file format: PNG

Other supported files: BMP, JPEG Pixel aspect ratio: Square pixels

Preferred animated file: AVI (non-compressed)
Other animated files supported: MP4, MOV

Frames per second: 30

Colours:

We recommend that you use rich, vibrant, saturated colours on the screen. You must also make sure to provide enough contrast between the background and the message/image. The rich colours will get a stronger emotional response from your clients. Even if the screen can create any colour, lighter colours in low contrast will make your messages appear soft and unclear. We recommend that you avoid using white backgrounds, because the LED screens use the light emitted. If too many pastel colours or white backgrounds are used, your content can truly draw attention away from the onlooker, especially in low-light conditions.

Text:

Simple and bold. In short, don't forget that your audience is in motion, looking upwards towards the screen. If your message is concise and bold, your content will be more easily understood at a glance. We recommend that you use as little text as possible, and to use a graphic or an image to present part of your message. It is also useful, with the contrast, to use a drop shadow or a dark contour around the text to distinguish it from the background.

Timeframe

The graphic layout must be submitted 10 working days before the starting date of the campaign. Any delay could postpone the campaign and the Town of Shediac will not be held responsible.
